Riding Lessons

Horseback riding is a great sport for adults and for children. At one time or another, riding uses every muscle in the body; it is great for physical fitness. Riding also develops self-confidence and self-esteem. Winston Churchill said, "There is something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man."

Riders at Mariways Stable learn to care for the horse; they learn to be around horses safely; they learn to control and to train the horse. Instruction is done in a kind, patient manner, and riders learn valuable life lessons while on horseback – lessons such as setting goals, working for a personal best, overcoming adversity and disappointment to reach higher and higher.
